BUTTE RESCUE MISSION ACCREDITED BY NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Action Recognizes Excellence

Butte Rescue Mission (BRM) is proud to announce its accreditation through Citygate Network, a national organization serving rescue missions and ministries dedicated to helping people survive homelessness, poverty, addiction, and other life challenges.

This accreditation recognizes Butte Rescue Mission's commitment to professional standards, organizational accountability, and excellence in serving individuals and families in need.

The Citygate recognition represents a significant milestone for the Mission. It has long-term impact throughout Southwest Montana because the Mission continues to strengthen its programs and operations to benefit the community.

"We are committed to providing the highest quality of care to the people we serve," says Brayton Erickson, Executive Director of Butte Rescue Mission. "This accreditation shows us that Citygate Network recognizes the good work we are doing here."

"We believe those going through homelessness, addiction, and other life challenges deserve more than basic services. They need the kind of excellent, compassionate, and accountable care we work hard to provide."

"By meeting Citygate Network's rigorous standards --- this means that the Butte Rescue Mission is meeting and exceeding industry standards. At the same time, we provide hope, restoration, and lasting change through the Gospel."

As part of the accreditation process, Butte Rescue Mission is undergoing a financial review and audit to improve financial accountability and transparency. The findings will be made available to the public once the process is complete.

Butte Rescue Mission is grateful to Citygate Network for its role in maintaining professional standards for rescue missions. The Mission is grateful to the Southwest Montana community for making this work possible.

"This accreditation is a real testimony to Butte Rescue Mission, its leadership and the work they have done," said Eric Burger, Executive Director of Shelter KC in Kansas City, Missouri and a member of the Citygate Board of Directors.

“This recognition shows the Mission’s commitment to the highest standards. In the accreditation process, Butte Rescue Mission demonstrated excellence in serving its guests well.” Burger presented Butte with the Certificate of Accreditation during the Mission’s recent banquet.

Achieving accreditation is a significant milestone for Butte Rescue Mission. Citygate Network represents more than 325 missions and life transformation ministries across North America. Of these, only fifty missions have achieved accreditation through its rigorous review process.

For Butte Rescue Mission, this accomplishment reflects a major step forward in strengthening the organization, upholding high industry standards, and ensuring that the people served receive excellent, compassionate, and accountable care.

The Butte Rescue Mission is a nonprofit organization serving the Butte/Silver Bow area. It is a safe place to heal in a loving and supportive environment for anyone experiencing hunger and homelessness.
